

Detecting products that have been picked can be done in some different ways. First there can be sensors that are looking from the side of the UniGripper to detect if there is something being picked. Sensors can be implemented through the UniGripper to look directly on the top of the product to be picked. If a whole layer needs to be detected, some type of light bars or area scanner can be used.

---